

Icy Strait Point, Alaska

Icy Strait Point is located near the city of Hoonah, the largest native Tlingit Indian settlement in Alaska, and very near Glacier Bay National Park. Home to a historic cannery, the port's connection to the sea is strong. Locals share the sea with humpback whales, orcas, Dall porpoises, seals, sea otters, halibut and all five species of Pacific salmon. It is not uncommon to spot a humpback or an orca while walking along the shore.

The One Thing You Don't Want to Miss

Visit the historic cannery, dating back to 1930. It has been fully restored to provide visitors with a glimpse of this interesting part of Alaskan history. The original cookhouse has also been renovated for family-style dining, the Alaskan way.

Other Fun Things to Do

- Go on an exciting helicopter adventure, looking for whales, eagles, bear and other local wildlife.
- Visit the beautifully landscaped Alaskan Botanical Garden.
- Explore the Native Tlingit historical park, museum and theater for an interesting look at Alaska Native culture and history.
- Take a flightseeing tour of spectacular nearby Glacier Bay in a propeller airplane.

Sporting Adventures

Alaska is home to so many extreme adventures, and Icy Strait Point is no exception. Enjoy mountain biking, ocean kayaking, alpine hiking or deep-sea fishing in this beautiful wilderness.
